

FIRST STOP BUSINESS INFORMATION SEMINAR

The U.S. Small Business Administration is conducting a FREE small business seminar for small business owners, those seeking to start a business and economic development and community officials on Wednesday, December 5, 2007 from 12:00 noon to 2:00 p.m. The seminar is hosted by the Scarborough Public Library.

The seminar will be conducted at the Scarborough Public Library, which is located at 48 Gorham Road, Scarborough, Maine.

The seminar is designed to provide interested individuals an overview of federal, state and local small business resources, technical assistance opportunities and financing options to assist small business start ups, help existing businesses grow and give community and economic development officials additional resources to assist their communities.

To pre-register for the seminar please visit our web site at: www.sba.gov/me, or call Marilyn Geroux at 622-8382. Please do not call the Library to register.

Be prepared to ask questions, meet others interested in small business and to network!!

PRE-REGISTRATION IS REQUESTED